

Promoting self-growth and effective life skills through art-making

In Review

Spring 2007

Dear ArtSpring Supporters:

We are pleased to embark on our first major fundraising event in ArtSpring's fifteen-year history—Any One of Us: Words from Prison—to be presented October 18 at Gusman Center for the Performing Arts in downtown Miami. It is with a great deal of pride that we are able to partner with Women's Fund of Miami-Dade to present this production, originally conceived by playwright Eve Ensler. We are even more proud that Leslie Neal, our founder and artistic director, will stage and direct this riveting portrayal of writings by women in prison. We have now achieved the institutional stability that enables us to undertake an event of this magnitude, giving us the opportunity to envision even greater benefits for the communities we serve. Among them, the Bridging the Gap (BGAP) writing workshop, which represented a new programming model for ArtSpring—the ability to join forces with other organizations to serve a common goal, in this case to connect incarcerated women with girls in detention through a partnership with the Girls Advocacy Project and the Florida Departments of Corrections and Juvenile Justice. Another BGAP partner, Project Coordinator Vicki Lopez Lukis, a member of our advisory council, spearheaded these partnerships that have proven so instrumental to the success of the program and paved the way for the Any One of Us production. With this upcoming event, we honor the accomplishments of the women we have served over the years, bearing witness to their profound personal transformations. Their truths form the basis for this production. I hope that you will share in these proud moments by joining us in October and at the many community events we have in store for you. Thanks for your support!

Spotlight: New Board President and Artist Facilitator Join ArtSpring

ArtSpring is thrilled to welcome Leslie Sternlieb as our new board president. A South Florida native, Leslie has regularly contributed to several local and national publications as a writer and editor, including stints as executive editor of South Florida magazine and as adjunct professor at Florida International University’s School of Journalism and Mass Communication. She is the senior editor of The Journal of Decorative and Propaganda Arts, published by The Wolfsonian-FIU and distributed by the MIT Press. In addition to serving on our board of directors, Leslie is a volunteer for the Miami-Dade writing workshop Bridging the Gap, which recently concluded at Homestead Correctional Institution (HCI) in Florida City.

In addition, we are proud to have Victoria Angela join our artist-facilitator faculty, teaching Inside Out at Lowell Correctional Institution (LCI) in Ocala, Florida. Victoria’s amazing talents and rich experience include work in dance, theater, poetry and music. She is also a Sufi master, and has a master’s degree in mental health counseling. Victoria is pleased to return to Lowell, where she previously served as a mental health counselor, for continued explorations in the arts and healing. Her workshop will focus on the healing qualities of the human voice: participants will learn how to use vocal expression as an instrument for individual empowerment and for personal healing, while examining the origins of sound as a curative modality. Victoria’s addition to our faculty has also enabled ArtSpring to reach its longstanding goal of expanding the Inside Out program to every female state prison in Florida.

ANY ONE OF US: WORDS FROM PRISON : Miami

October 18th 2007, 8 p.m.

Gusman Center for the Performing Arts

174 East Flagler Street, Miami

Any One of Us: Words from Prison reveals the connection between women in prison and the violence that often brings them there. This event will bring forth the raw, fierce and honest writings of the women in prisons across Florida. Staged and directed by ArtSpring founder and artistic director Leslie Neal, the Miami production will be performed by South Florida artists, celebrities and community leaders. This powerful experience aims to foster greater community understanding, personal healing and change—with the ultimate goal of making a positive impact on the laws and treatment options for incarcerated women and girls in detention.

Proceeds from this ONE TIME ONLY EVENT will be used to:

- Produce an anthology of writings by incarcerated women participating in the Bridging the Gap Writing Workshop, a partnership that includes ArtSpring, the Girls Advocacy Project (GAP), the Departments of Corrections and Juvenile Justice and Project Coordinator Vicki Lopez Lukis; the anthology will be distributed to adolescent girls in detention as a tool for intervention and education;
- Support Women's Fund of Miami-Dade grants to programs that prevent at-risk girls from entering the juvenile justice system and that reduce recidivism of girls in detention;
- Fund ArtSpring's Inside Out expressive-arts workshops for incarcerated women and Breaking Free workshops for at-risk adolescent girls.

This performance is presented in cooperation with V-Day, a global movement to stop violence against women and girls. V-Day is a catalyst that promotes creative events to increase awareness, raise money and revitalize the spirit of existing anti-violence organizations.

Since 1994, ArtSpring has offered specially designed arts-based workshops through two principal ongoing programs: Inside Out-Expressive Arts Workshops for Incarcerated Women and Breaking Free-Arts for Adolescent Girls. In 2005 ArtSpring implemented Rites and Passages-Theatre and Drumming Workshops for Male Inmates (RAP). ArtSpring is nationally recognized for offering the longest ongoing arts-in-corrections programming in the state of Florida. Our interdisciplinary arts programs incorporate movement, theater games, writing, drawing, music, storytelling, meditation, guided imagery and performance as transformational tools for self-reflection and personal change.

Our programs promote creative thinking, personal growth, effective life-skill development and confident self-expression. ArtSpring believes in the power of art to transform individuals and communities. Our creative workshops encourage personal reflection, self-awareness, acceptance, commitment, tolerance and individual choice-making that provide participants with better tools for survival while confined in institutionalized settings and upon their release.
